Express Disappointment to the Nature Conservancy for supporting TPP:

Despite extensive analysis as to its devastating potential consequences for the environment, The Nature Conservancy's CEO wrote an article supporting TPP for HuffPost Green on April 21st, Leveraging TPP to Raise Environmental Standards Across the Globe. Please write to him to express your deep disappointment and urge The Nature Conservancy to publicly acknowledge that TPP, if implemented, will be the most environmentally devastating trade deal in history.

Politely Urge Early TPP Supporters to Release Anti-TPP Statements

These groups made supportive comments about TPP prior to the release of the final text, but have not gone on record as TPP supporters since the final text was released. We need to urge them to release statements indicating that TPP fell short of their expectations and the administration's promises and that they now oppose it. Their TPP statements and letters are linked below along with contact information for each group.
