

Agenda to Bring New Corporate Issues into the WTO is Defeated, But So Are Developing Countries' Demands for More Policy Space for Development

December 22, 2015 | Huffington Post

Nairobi, Kenya - At the first ministerial meeting of the World Trade Organization (WTO) in Africa, it was clear that the majority of members opposed further WTO expansion, and fortunately the effort by some developed countries to impose new pro-corporate issues on the agenda was defeated.

Anti-Hunger Groups Make Impassioned Pleas: the United States Should Support, Not Object, to Removing WTO Obstacles to Global Food Security

December 15, 2015 | Huffington Post

Those of us who believe in a world free of hunger have an exciting opportunity to open up a pathway for progress on this entrenched issue -- yet hardly anyone has noticed because it is happening at the World Trade Organization (WTO) in Geneva.

Major Summit Could Put World's Poorest Inhabitants on Corporate Chopping Block

December 13, 2015 | AlterNet

Over 450 groups of global civil society sent a letter to WTO negotiators in advance of the Nairobi 10th Ministerial meeting.

Climate Deception: Non-binding "Targets" for Climate, but Binding Rules on Trade in Services

December 4, 2015 | Huffington Post

The whole world is watching as world leaders from nearly every country across the globe meet in Paris this week to set carbon emission reductions targets to address global climate change. Unfortunately representatives of 50 of the same governments are also meeting this week in Geneva to negotiate binding...

Huge International Coalition Calls for a Big Change to WTO Agenda

July 13, 2015 | Huffington Post

Negotiations in the WTO are heating up -- and they are going badly. In November last year, WTO members agreed to come up with a "Work Program" for resurrecting the Doha Round by July 31.

Just Before Round of Negotiations on the Proposed 'Trade in Services Agreement' (TISA), Wikileaks Releases Updated Secret Documents

July 2, 2015 | Huffington Post

Today, Wikileaks released a second batch of the most updated draft texts on the proposed TISA, along with substantive analysis, on each of four massive services sectors: Financial Services, Telecommunications Services, Electronic Commerce, and Maritime Transport.

Setting the Record Straight on the TISA Leak

June 10, 2015 | Huffington Post

Last week, WikiLeaks released the largest trove of secret trade documents ever: draft texts of the proposed Trade in Services Agreement (TISA). While the major U.S. press has largely ignored the scoop, coverage from Forbes (warning about threats to data privacy), the Sydney Morning Herald (voicing...

Investing in Agriculture in Developing Countries: The Whole World Says Yes, But the WTO Says No

March 31, 2015, Source: AlterNet

What's Going on at the WTO? : Opportunities and Risks Before the 9th Ministerial Meeting

November 18, 2013 | Huffington Post